SAMPSON IS STRICKEN

Death of the Famous Admiral at His Home In Washington.

SUFFERS A VIOLENT HEMORRHAGE.

One of the Principals In the Famous Controversy Over the Naval Battle Off Santiago at Death's Door.

Washington, May 6.—Admiral Sampson died at 5 p. m.

Washington, May 6.—Admiral Sampson had a violent hemorrhage. His condition is critical. At 2 p. m. Admiral Sampson was unconscious and breathing laboriously. His physician states that he is failing rapidly and that the end may come at any moment. For several days past the admiral has been growing weaker and the hemorrhage brought on the sinking spell.

Coincidence In Deaths.

Washington, May 6.—The house adjourned immediately after the reading of the journal, out of respect to the memory of Representative J. D. Salmon of New Jersey. This is the third consecutive legislative day on which the house has paid a similar tribute of respect to one of its deceased members. Never before in its history have three desks been draped at the same time. It was a coincidence remarked upon by members in connection with the death of Messrs. Cummings, Otey and Salmon that Mr. Cummings was appointed on the committee to attend the Rosecrans obsequies at Arlington; that Mr. Otey was appointed on the committee to attend the funeral of Mr. Cummings, and that Mr. Salmon was designated to attend the funeral of Mr. Otey. The chaplain in his invocation upon the assembling of the house referred feelingly to Mr. Salmon's death and Mr. Parker (New Jersey) then announced the death of his colleague.

Boers Captured.

London, May 6.—Lord Kitchener's weekly report dated from Pretoria, shows that the peace movement is not allowed to interfere with military operations, except so far as to permit of unrestrained meetings between the leaders and their various commandoes. The Boer casualties were 10 killed and 122 made prisoners. General Bruce Hamilton's columns captured 87 men on the Heilbron, Orange River colony line. Colonel Colebrenden has resumed operations in the northern part of the Transvaal against Beyer's forces, whose forces have been considerably reduced, and General Ian Hamilton has cleared a large area west of Klerksdorp, southwestern Transvaal.

Granted the Request.

San Francisco, May 6.—A committee from the street car men's union have called on Arthur Holland, president of the United railroads and asked for a modification of the strike agreement regarding the hours of labor under the new schedule. The committee suggested that the time be extended an hour or so that 11 hours be a day's work instead of 10 and that they might earn more money. This request was granted.

Given Five Years.

Indianapolis, May 6.—Richard C. Davis, the cashier of the People's national bank of Washington, Ind., who pleaded guilty to embezzeling over $70,000 of the bank's funds, which he spent in gambling, was sentenced by Judge John H. Baker of the federal court, to five years' imprisonment in the prison at Columbus, Ohio.

Washington, May 6.—The comptroller of the currency has issued a call for the condition of national banks at the close of business Wednesday, April 30, 1902.

LEGISLATIVE NEWS.

Senate Reconsiders House Bills and Makes Them Laws.

Columbus, O., May 6.—There was a large sized lobby present in the house, the drawing card being the Painter canal bill, which was expected might be called during the morning session. Those who came were disappointed.

There was a large force of penitentiary officers present to push the new prison wages bill. There are two bills to be presented, one by Mr. Crafts and the other by Dr. Cain. The bills seek to repeal the recent 66 hour law and to increase the salaries of the guards and most of the officers.

When the message came from the senate that the Painter bill to increase the State university levy had been amended, the house balked. The original bill, enacted by the house, provides for a levy of .20 of a mill for the university for all time to come, but the senate amended the bill to limit the levy to two years. The house refused to concur in the amendment and a conference committee will be asked for.

Representative Thomas launched and pushed to immediate passage a bill which shakes the Hosea measure considerably. The bill as it was passed repealed that section of the statutes which provided a board of arbitration for the adjustment of disputed insurance losses. Mr. Thomas' bill re-enacted the original law, making the arbiters to be selected citizens of the county in which the loss had been sustained.

Mr. Tenney of Miami county introduced a bill drawn by Judge M. B. Earnhart of this city, providing for a meat inspector for every city and village of the state. The bill provides for heavy fines for selling beef that has not been inspected and approved by the duly appointed inspector. The bill was read the second time and referred to committee, but it is understood that no especial effort will be made to rush it through. It is intended as much as a thrust at the beef trust as it is intended to be a law.

Mr. Myers of Montgomery county introduced the interurban fare bill, which has been expected for several days. The bill was hastened to its second reading and referred to the committee on railroads and telegraphs. It is understood that an effort will be made to get the bill through, even if there are but about six days remaining of the session. The bill provides that interurbans shall only be allowed to collect fares at the rate of 1½ cents per mile.

In the Senate.

Senator Patterson introduced his new board of elections ripper. It differs from the original one in that it applies only to Cleveland, Cincinnati, Columbus, Toledo and Dayton, while the former bill was general in its application.

The senate reconsidered the vote by which two bills had been defeated and then passed them both. One was Mr. Brannock's house bill allowing the state fire marshal an additional deputy at a salary of $1,500 a year, and giving the marshal and his deputies inquisitorial powers.

The other bill reconsidered by the senate and made a law was the house bill providing for the appointment by the governor of a state board of examiners for horseshoers.

The senate also passed Mr. Harrison's bill authorizing public libraries to extend their privileges to all the residents of a county, the expense to be borne by the counties.

The senate killed the Patterson board of elections bill by indefinitely postponing it.

At a joint session Representative McNamee of Franklin presented Speaker McKinnon with a beautiful emerald ring, the gift of the Irish-American members of the house. Mr. McNamee stated that there are about 40 donors in all. Mr. McKinnon accepted the present in graceful speech.

Three Cent Fares Win.

Cleveland, May 6.—Judge Strimple of the common pleas court handed down a decision in favor of the city in the three cent fare street railway injunction case. The court dissolved the temporary injunction restraining the construction of the new line through Rhodes avenue and also dismissed the petition of William Reynolds, which claimed that the franchise granted by the city was illegal. Judge Strimple said that the franchise was entirely valid and that the consent of property owners had been secured in a legal manner. Notice of appeal was filed by the plaintiffs in the suit.

Lancaster, O., May 6.—This city is filled with Grand Army men, who are attending the 36th annual encampment. The principal aspirants for department commander are Walton Weber of Columbus and Colonel Moulton of Lima. Marietta and Washington C. H. are after next year's encampment.

BABY TAYLOR LOCATED

In Sunny Italy With Her Aunt According to Official Information.

GOVERNOR NASH VERIFIES STORY.

The Machinery of the State Department Has Been Set in Motion to Return the Kidnapped Child.

Washington, May 6—A cablegram received at the state department from Ambassador Choate stated that he had succeeded in locating Margaret Taylor, the Cincinnati girl, who was kidnapped in 1898 by her aunt, in Bordighera, Italy. The ambassador added that he had supplied the Cincinnati detective who is looking into the case with a letter of introduction to Ambassador Meyer at Rome, to facilitate his quest.

Columbus, O., May 6—The story that the kidnaped baby Taylor, whose grandmother and aunt have been sentenced to the Ohio penitentiary, was in an orphan asylum at Albany, N. Y., has been exploded by information received here, according to the statement of the Commercial Tribune, that the child has been located by detectives in Italy with her aunt, Miss Clara Taylor. Proceedings will at once be taken through state and national officials for the return of the child to her mother.

Governor Nash verified the story of finding Baby Taylor in Italy. The governor said:

"Yes my information locates Clara Taylor and little Margaret in Italy. The first information I had as to their whereabouts came from Secretary of State John Hay a week ago last Saturday. He informed me that one of the American ambassadors in Europe had reported that the kidnaped aunt and little Margaret had been seen in Italy two weeks before I received the notice."

The governor requested the secretary to have the American consular machinery abroad use every endeavor to apprehend and detain the aunt and the kidnaped child. Secretary Hay reported that he had done this, and since then developments have been awaited by Governor Nash, but as yet no further information has been received.

Prosecuting Attorney Harry Hoffheimer of Hamilton county, made a requisition on Governor Nash for the extradition from Italy of Miss Clara Taylor, who is under indictment here for kidnapping Margaret Taylor. The government was advised of the case while Clara Taylor was in London and from that city she was traced through the continent to Italy.

"This office is not under obligation to any person to not continue prosecution of the case," said Prosecutor Hoffheimer, "and I think the governor has entered into no compact of any sort, but that I do not know."

History of the Crime.

The history of the kidnapping of little Margaret Taylor and the subsequent trial and conviction of two of the child-stealers is a most interesting one.

The plot to steal Margaret Taylor from her young mother was hatched, it is claimed, by Mrs. Frances Langworthy, aged 78 years, and her two daughters, Clara Taylor, aged about 50, and Frances L. Taylor, Jr., aged 39 years. Margaret's mother is Mrs. May Tenant Taylor, the wife of Albert Vinton Taylor, the brother and son of the kidnapers. All reside in Cincinnati.

The cause of Margaret being stolen from her parents was the dislike the Taylors conceived for Mrs. Tenant Taylor almost from the day she was married to A. V. Taylor. This dislike became hate when Margaret was born in her grandmother's house at Fernbank about eight years ago. Margaret's grandmother and aunts conceived the idea that they were better fitted and more competent to rear Margaret than her mother. Out of this evidently grew the kidnapping plot and the fierce determination of the grandmother and aunts to never allow the young mother to see or rear her first born.

Frances and Clara Taylor are unmarried women and for years they have been their own breadwinners. The former is a linotype operator and is now working on a Columbus newspaper.

The child disappeared Aug. 3, 1898, and has never been seen since by her parents.

Killed at Canton.

Canton, O., May 6.—Robert Chisholm was killed and Hiram Smith and James Black painfully injured at the plant of the Aultman company. A large elevator on which they were hauling a threshing machine, fell a distance of 30 feet.

FLOOD OF HOT IRON.

Agonizing Death of Four Laborers in a Furnace Pit.

Harrisburg, Pa., May 6.—Four men were killed, two fatally injured and two others were terribly burned by being caught in a torrent of molten metal in an open hearth pit at the Pennsylvania steel works, Steelton, near here. All of the men were Americans with unpronounceable names. The men were at work in a pit, when the iron boiled over, or the furnace burned out, and the entire pit was turned into a pool of fire. The pit boss, Charles F. Lockett, gave a cry of warning as the iron commenced to flow into the pit and three of the laborers heeded his cry and escaped fatal injury. The others thinking, evidently, that the overflow was a slight one, similar to those which occur frequently at the furnace, pressed against the side of the pit and were caught in the awful flood.

Time of Corrigan's Funeral.

New York, May 6.—The body of Archbishop Corrigan was embalmed and then was placed in a large room on the second floor of the archiepiscopal residence, there to remain until night when it will be placed in St. Patrick's cathedral. The body will be robed in the vestments of the archbishop's office. The head will be crowned with a mitre, and in the left hand will be a chalice. Besides the body will be a pastoral staff. Bishop Ignatius Docca of San Luis Potosi, Mexico, attended one of the masses at the cathedral. He had been a friend of the archbishop for 32 years and had arrived here on his way to Europe. The funeral will be held Friday at 10 a. m.

Railroad Detectives Meet.

Louisville, May 6.—The Special Agents' association, composed of men who guard 185,000 miles of railroad in the United States and Canada, met at the Willard hotel, the annual convention being called to order by the president, W. G. Baldwin of Roanoke, Va., chief special agent of the Norfolk and Western and Seaboard Air Line roads. About 75 delegates were present. The organization is closely allied with the National Association of Chiefs of Police which will convene here Wednesday.

To Regulate Wine Rooms.

Denver, May 6.—The Colorado supreme court has upheld the city ordinance of Denver for the regulation of wine rooms. The decision reverses that of the district court given by Judge Palmer who held that women have the same right to enter wine rooms or saloons that men have. The court holds that injury to public morality would result if women were permitted to frequent wine rooms unrestricted.

Will Attack Anti-Trust Law.

Jefferson City, Mo., May 6.—At the opening of the beef trust inquiry in the state supreme court, Mr. Hagerman of Kansas City, representing the Armour, Cudahy, Swift, Morris and Hammond interests, filed an objection to the progress of the inquiry. Mr. Hagerman, who was accompanied by Alexander New, said that he proposed to bring in question the validity of the state anti-trust law.

DEATH OF BRETHARTE

The Famous American Author Passes Away Suddenly in England.

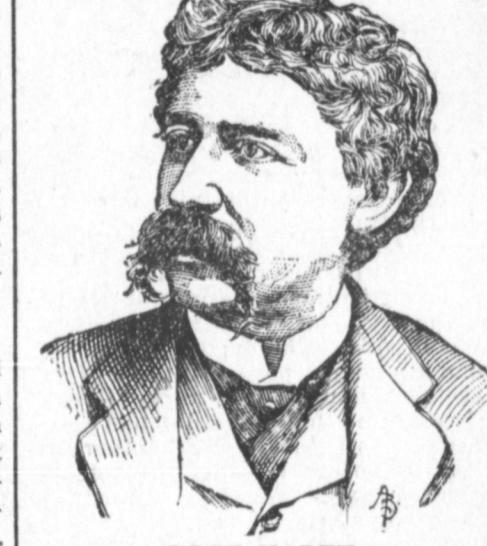

HAD AN AFFLICTION OF THROAT.

For Many Years He Has Lived a Retired Life In London Occasionally Visiting Friends and Receiving a Few Callers.

London, May 6.—Bret Harte, the American author died here. He was born at Albany, N. Y., Aug. 25, 1839.

Mr. Harte died suddenly at the Red House, Camberley, near Aldershot, from hemorrhage, caused by an affection of the throat.

Mr. Harte had been living quietly in England for years. Most of his time was spent in the country and when in London he was almost equally secluded, having few visitors to his rooms at Lancaster Gate, and only going to the houses of a limited number of very intimate friends. Several months ago when a false report of his death was circulated in America a reporter called at his rooms. Mr. Harte then appeared to be perfectly well. He laughed heartily and quoted Mark Twain's old saying about the report being greatly exaggerated. "Except for a little cold," said Mr. Harte, "I have no ailments or complaints. While I am getting to be a pretty old man—pointing to his snow white hair—there is life in the old dog yet," and thereupon he lit a cigar so large that it would have done credit to any of his Poker Flat friends. He was hoping, he said, to do more work, but he confessed he was growing lazy.

Mr. Harte had been suffering from swelled tonsils since December last, but he did not consider the attack to be serious. A week ago he went to visit friends at Camberley and was present at a lunch as usual. He suddenly became ill in the afternoon, went to bed and died in a few hours. His end was peaceful.

DISASTROUS FIRE.

Business Portion of New Milford Destroyed by Flames.

Danbury, Conn., May 6.—Between $500,000 and $600,000 is the latest estimate of the loss by the fire which destroyed the business section of New Milford, 16 miles north of here. Nearly 50 buildings, including most of the stores in the place, two banks and three hotels, were burned. The fire was under control at sunrise but is still burning in many places. The New Milford national bank, the last building to take fire was in ruins at daybreak. The fire started in the stables of the New Milford House. The cause is unknown. In 10 minutes the stables, the hotel and several small outbuildings were in flames and the railroad station opposite was in grave danger. The village fire department, which consists only of a hose company and a hook and ladder apparatus, was unable to cope with the flame, which spread quickly.

Gets Another Trial.

Cincinnati, May 6.—The United States circuit court of appeals disposed of the case of J. M. McKnight, who was president of the defunct German national bank at Louisville. McKnight has had six trials and has been three times sentenced to terms of imprisonment ranging from five to seven years, the charge being embezzlement of the bank's funds, based on the fact that he loaned $2,000 on a note of two aldermen alleged to be insolvent. Judge Day announced the opinion of the court, in which it was held that the court had erred in compelling the defendant to testify against himself, by holding the note and having been called by the prosecution to testify concerning it. The judgment of the lower court was reversed and the case remanded for another trial.

Rome, May 6.—The pope received in audience the archbishop of Milwaukee, the Most Rev. Frederick Xavier Katzer.

CHILDREN'S PLAYGROUNDS.

From Mrs. Desha Breckinridge's charming San Francisco letter in the last Lexington Sunday Herald, we make the following extract concerning one of the latest successful "reforms":

It is but little wonder that it took but four years to convince a ruling majority in San Francisco that the playgrounds tended directly to the result of forming the street children into gentlemen and ladies, into good citizens rather than letting them grow into youthful offenders who had to be "reformed" at schools of correction, or finally into criminals, who must, at great cost to the State, be outlawed from society.

The coveted southside playground on Harrison street was opened this year on the 5th of April—never to be closed, according to the present schedule of the powers that be, for San Francisco has its sunshine every day in the year and a mean temperature of what our conservatory thermometers designate "summer heat," but which should more properly be known as May day weather.

The playground had been open then just two weeks when I made my visit to it the day before I left San Francisco. But there was no abatement in the interest. I hadn't seen so many children gathered together in one place, since I was in the thick of Seward Park in New York last fall. I hadn't been so entirely mixed up with such delightful children since our Irishtown playground closed last August. The intimacy was established in five minutes; they crowded around my kodak, peeped into the lens to see the picture I was going to take, and every time that one child had special permission to look, a dozen other got so close to the outer end of the camera that the only view was of brown coats or red calico dresses.

They all wanted to be taken and they kept bringing up "secretaries, and presidents, and monitors" (for the children themselves officer the playground), until my 2x3 camera could no more. Children are very nice; they meet one so much more than half way; these children answered questions so enthusiastically, they volunteered so much information that hadn't even been asked, and they pointed out all the best games and the best pieces of apparatus to take pictures of, and as I moved away from this or that ground I could hear them murmur in quite audible tones "Ain't she sweet!" Undeserved praise of that kind based on an acquaintance of five minutes is very stimulating; it makes one feel very warm at the heart and in the cheeks, and it makes one want very much to deserve it better of those whom longer acquaintance has made much more cautious in commendation.

SUDDEN DEATH.

Another National Statesman Called to His Long Home.

Morristown, N. J., May 6.—Representative J. S. Salmon of the Fourth district of New Jersey died suddenly at his home in Boonton. Apoplexy was the cause of death. He was 56 years old and was serving his second term in congress, as a Democrat. A widow, two sons and a daughter survive him.

Arrested on Suspicion.

New York, May 6.—Dominick Melia of Brooklyn, has been arrested at Newark, N. J., on suspicion in connection with the mysterious murder of Francesca De Conza, the Italian politician. Melia was taken while aboard a New York and Newark trolley car and was sent to jail for 30 days to await extradition papers. According to the police De Conza and Melia recently had quarreled over domestic affairs.

Robison Not Sustained.

St. Louis, May 6.—In the circuit court Judge Teity denied the petition of President Robison of the St. Louis National league baseball club to restrain Wallace and Harper from playing with the St. Louis American league team. President Robison declared he had contracts with the two players which gave him their exclusive services this season.

Polo Match Tragedy.

New York, May 6.—Death ended a polo match with which the new grounds in Van Cortland park were opened. George Courtenay, one of the attendants while returning to the club house for polo balls, was hurled from a pony and thrown against a tree, receiving injuries from which he died immediately.

New York, May 6.—By the incorporation under the laws of the state of Maine of the United States soap corporation with a capital of $1,000,000, work has been, it is said, actually undertaken on plans for the combination of the soap manufacturing interests of the east. One plant already has been absorbed.

D. HUNT & SON

JUDGE PAYNTER.

The Unanimous Choice of the Appellate Convention for Reelection.

Prominent Leaders From All Parts of District Present at Tuesday's Meeting of the Democrats.

Hon. Thomas H. Paynter, ex-Chief Justice of the Kentucky Court of Appeals and still a member of the bench, is the unanimous choice of his party for reelection to the high position he has so ably filled. The honor came to him Tuesday by acclamation from the hands of the Democrats of the Sixth appellate district.

It was known in advance that Judge Paynter would have a walkover, but notwithstanding this fact there was a very large attendance, every county in the district sending a good delegation.

The convention was called to order at 1 o'clock by Chairman W. A. Young of the Executive Committee, and the temporary organization effected by the election of Hon. E. E. Barton, of Pendleton, Chairman, and Mr. Thomas D. Slattery, Secretary, with Hon. S. W. Adams, of Covington, Assistant Secretary.

A call of the counties followed for the appointment of committees on credentials, organizations and resolutions, each county naming its representatives on the respective committees. Judge Whitaker represented Mason County on the Committee on Credentials, C. F. Taylor on resolutions and Joseph F. Walton on organization.

The Committee on Credentials reported that the various counties were entitled to the following votes in the convention: Boone 12, Kenton 36, Campbell 21, Pendleton 9, Grant 10, Harrison 14, Bracken 9, Robertson 3, Mason 13, Lewis 8, Greenup 7, Rowan 4, Fleming 11, Nicholas 8, Carter 9.

On the recommendation of the Committee on Organization, the temporary organization was made permanent, following which Judge James P. Tarvin, of Covington, presented the report of the Committee on Resolutions, as follows:

The Democrats of the Sixth Appellate Court District of Kentucky, in convention assembled, resolve:

First—We unqualifiedly endorse and command the course and action of Thomas H. Paynter as Judge of the Court of Appeals, a bench entitled to our respect and admiration; and his unanimous re-nomination by the Democracy of this district honors the State as well as the man.

Second—We endorse and command the wise, conservative and Democratic administration by J. C. W. Beckham, of the high office of Governor of this Commonwealth. We call attention to the contrast presented by his administration to the first, last and only Republican administration of that office; and to the fact demonstrated by this administration, that the people of Kentucky can govern themselves without the use of military force at the polls.

Third—The convention returns its thanks to the officials and people of Maysville for the courtesy and hospitality shown to its members.

Resolved, That the Democratic papers in the district publish the proceedings of the convention.

The reports of the various committees were adopted without a dissenting vote.

A call of the counties was made for nominations. When Greenup was called Attorney Will Cole arose and nominated Judge Paynter, paying a high tribute to the sterling worth and ability of the jurist. The nomination was seconded by Judge Westover, of Grant County, in a few well chosen remarks. The nomination was made by acclamation.

A committee composed of Judge White,

W. T. Cole, Judge Tarvin, Hon. C. B. Poynz and Hon. John M. Lassing was appointed to notify Judge Paynter of his nomination. He was escorted to the convention hall and in well chosen remarks thanked the delegates for the honor conferred upon him so unanimously, and then gracefully stepped off the platform to receive the hearty congratulations of his many friends.

CONVENTION NOTES.

Hon. G. S. Wall was Chairman of the Mason County delegation.

Mr. William Downing, of Lewisburg, was selected Sergeant-at-Arms of the convention.

Judge J. D. White, of Bardwell, an associate Justice of Judge Paynter, attended the convention.

Hon. S. W. Adams, Assistant Secretary, represented one of the Kenton districts in late General Assembly.

Editor Callon, of the Greenup Democrat, and a delegate to the convention, was a pleasant caller on the BULLETIN while here.

Judge James Osborne, of the Harrison-Nicholas district, a Mason County man who has made his way to the front through his energy and ability, was a delegate from Harrison.

Mr. M. J. Hennessey, the hustling attorney of Augusta, entertained the delegates for about ten minutes with a red hot Democratic speech while the committees were preparing their reports.

On calling the convention to order Mr. Young in his remarks referred to the school book bill that brought forth an explanation from Senator W. A. Byron who opposed the bill for what he considered were very good reasons.

Among the prominent men who attended the convention were Judge Ira Julian, of Frankfort, Hon. June W. Gayle, of Owenton, T. P. Paynter, of Greenup, and Alex. Davezac, of Covington.

Ex-Lieutenant Governor James W. Bryan, of Covington, was one of the delegates, and many of the representatives from over the district were desirous to hear the brilliant orator, but for some reason the Governor could not be induced to respond.

Judge Tarvin, of Kenton, was called on for a speech and after complimenting Judge Paynter he poured hot shot into some of the Republicans high in the councils of the party, in a manner such as only Judge Tarvin can do. He has many friends and admirers here who are always ready and anxious to hear this forceful speaker.

Many were surprised to see so much interest manifested when there was no opposition. The large number in attendance and the character of the delegates were a great source of pleasure to those who have the interest of the party at heart. It must be remembered, however, that Judge Paynter has a knack of making new friends and holding old ones.

Judge Paynter has many reasons for feeling jubilant and one of them is that every county in the district was well represented notwithstanding the fact it was well known there would be no opposition, and the high character of the men present, who represented all the honorable walks of life. It has been many a day since such a representative body of Democrats assembled in a convention.

First Presbyterian Church.

Special services at 3 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. Dr. Worrall will preach his last sermon today. His visit has been a great blessing to the church and to all who have heard him.

A fancy driving horse belonging to John Y. Dean was found dead Tuesday afternoon at his stable on Strawberry alley. It had been sick with lung fever.

WEEKLY CROP REPORT.

What the Weather Bureau Has to Say of the Outlook in Kentucky—De- cided Improvement.

[Report for week ending May 6.] General rains occurred during the first of the week. The rainfall was quite heavy in southwestern counties. The rain was followed by very warm weather during the latter part of the week and all vegetation is growing rapidly.

Wheat, oats and rye have improved quite decidedly. Corn is about half planted; the work was seriously retarded by rain, but the early fields are coming up well.

Tobacco plants are generally late and rather scarce, but are now making excellent growth.

Garden vegetables and potatoes are starting out nicely and look quite promising. Grass and clover in pastures and meadows are growing rapidly. Hemp has been sown and is coming up nicely in the early fields.

Fruit is in bloom and, with the exception of peaches, looks quite promising. Strawberries are in fine condition. There is considerable complaint of damage by cut worms.

In some of the southwestern counties crops were damaged by severe hailstorms, but the area affected was not large.

Farm work has been delayed in the Western and Central sections by rain.

The most select line of sterling silver goods ever brought to Maysville at prices less than this line has ever been offered. See our watch bargains; nothing like them anywhere.

Percy G. Cross will fill his usual appointments at the Christian Church, Germantown, Sunday, May 11th. Subjects: Morning, "America for Christ," evening, "Ideals in Citizenship."

Steubenville, O., May 6.—At the Republican congressional convention of the Sixteenth Ohio district held here Congressman J. J. Gill was renominated by acclamation for his third term.

Divided Her Property While Living. San Francisco, May 6.—The will of Mrs. Susan G. Tevis has been filed for probate. Mrs. Tevis was the principal beneficiary of the will of Lloyd Tevis, whose estate was appraised approximately at $8,000,000. The entire estate Mrs. Tevis gave to her children and grandchildren during her life, with the exception of certain personal property to the value of about $20,000, and this is the entire estate to be administered upon by her executors.

OUTDOOR SPORTS

To Be a Prominent Feature of the Y. M. C. A. During the Summer Months. Base Ball and Tennis Clubs.

There is no need of a Y. M. C. A. folding its arms and resting for three or four months during the summer as do some associations. The local association realizing the needs of the boys and young men expect to make the summer's work mean as much as the winter's work with the educational and gymnasium classes. Outdoor sports should take first place during the warm months.

The Juniors have a base ball team and have played three games. The Senior team will soon be organized, and members are requested to put in their applications for positions on the team. No one will be considered as a member of the team who has not put in an application. Twelve men will be selected to represent the first team, with five substitutes. A second team will be organized so everyone will have an opportunity to play. As a player progresses he will be promoted.

Tennis should have a place among the outdoor games. A tennis club will be organized providing four members so desire. The base ball park will be used as an athletic field room.

The Junior boys had a bare and hound race Saturday, and next Saturday a "hobo club" will be organized, and at 10 o'clock a. m. the boys will go out in the country for a tramp. Every boy should take a box of lunch along. A regular hobo tramp will be taken. Old clothes will be the uniform for the occasion.

The association desires thirty-five more Junior members, and now is just the time for the boys to join. Membership $3 per year. Many Seniors are joining. Membership $5 per year.

Louisville Times: "No matter how the outsiders may come along, Kentucky women born of the soil get there just the same. Some little time since Mrs. Glascock-Hull, of Kentucky, gave a charming entertainment at Shelbyville in behalf of a local association, and now another popular organization has secured her services. She has arranged a series of entertainments to be given in Central Kentucky for the benefit of the Daughters of the Confederacy, who are in need of funds for a good cause. She will be at Georgetown next week, where she will be accorded a reception commensurate with her ability as an entertainer. This means a crowded house for this brilliant woman who stands so high in the State, where few people have met with greater success. At Georgetown she will be seen in her original conception of the New York, Boston and Chicago society girl, an impersonation which won for her the prize at the New York Assembly last year."

Ladies' solid 14k. watch, studded with a solitaire diamond, $23. Gents' solid gold watch $25. Iron parlor clocks $5. Set of solid silver spoons $3.50. We're closing out this stock.
